Concept Note:

India has depicted 'unity in diversity' for thousands of years. Bharatvarsha of the glorious past was the 'Viswa Guru'-knowledge-leader in the world for centuries, contributing in all fields of life. It scripted Vedas & Upanishads, exceptionally the universal knowledge whereas much of the rest in the world was in the rudimentary stage of life. However, pre-colonial and colonial invasions perpetrated profound atrocities and enslaved, causing a great loss of its glory, pride and eminence in the world for over one thousand years.

After decades of struggling with nation-rebuilding, independent India has recently come up to a point of taking up the call given by the great leadership that is currently steering the nation. This emerging situation calls for applying serious minds to rediscover India's glorious past and its significance for resurgent India or emerging Bharat. Hence, a national seminar is proposed on the theme- Resurgent India, Emerging Bharat: Revisiting the Glorious Past.

The Objectives of the Seminar

1. To uncover India's past glories in social, cultural, economic, political, administrative, educational, philosophical, scientific and other fields
2. To gain an understanding of traditional approaches, methods, infrastructures, etc. and their current relevance for the nation
3. To understand role of education in re- building the nation
4. To ponder over ways of and means for carrying forward the process of resurgence in India

Sub-themes of the Seminar

(i) Ancient knowledge systems in India and their resurgence (ii) Cultural ethos, human values and traditions in India (iii) India's achievement in various fields- social, cultural, economic, political, administrative, and others (iv) Ancient India's contribution to science and technology (v) India's ancient education system and its influence (vi) India's contribution to the world's welfare (vii) Transformations leading towards a new India (viii) Mapping current resurgence of India (ix) Any other topic related to the theme
